

P.B. Chronicles

VOLUME 1 NUMBER 1

MAY 15, 1985

Dear Fans:

I want you all to know how pleased I am with the support you have shown me over the past year. This is truly one of the best fan clubs I've ever seen and it is all thanks to each and every one of you. I have greatly enjoyed reading your letters, poems, and believe it or not, I've even played a word game or two. This has been a lot of fun and I'm looking forward to all of your surprises in the upcoming year.

Many thanks to my very dear fans.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for your letters and renewed interest in the club. I am really excited about my new position as club president. As you can see, there have been a number of changes made in the newsletter and I welcome any comment you might have - THIS IS YOUR CLUB.

The newsletters will be sent on a quarterly basis from this point forward, so you can be expecting your next newsletter shortly after August 15. For any of you with a renewal due prior to that date, please get a SASE into us well before the next publishing date so that you won't miss that issue of the P.B. Chronicles.

I'm looking forward to getting to know all you during the next year.

What's Happening...

an interview with Pierce

PBC: What's your favorite theatrical production?

PIERCE: I have quite a few that were memorable, really. One was by Theatre DeSol, a french company, which did a production of 1789, a play about the French Revolution. Another one I definately recall was Peter Brook's "A Midsummer Night's Dream." I also remember "The Real Thing" which starred Jeremy Irons.

PBC: Do you sing?

PIERCE: Yes, as a matter of fact, I've recently started lessons with a voice coach and have discovered that I do have a voice. I find myself going around the house singing songs like "Eidleweiss" and "Try to Remember." (Well! . . . you have to start somewhere).

PBC: Would you ever like to do Broadway?

PIERCE: Yes, I'd love to do Broadway, but just finding the time seems to be the problem. Cassie and I were given a play only recently which was a fine piece, but again, it's the time element that seems to be the main difficulty.

PBC: Where do you go to get away from it all?

PIERCE: Well, you never really get away from it so we just stay at home.

PBC: Have you ever been to Disneyland?

PIERCE: No, nor have I been to Magic Mountain or Knotts Berry Farm. I guess I was just a deprived child.

PBC: How did you meet Cassie?

PIERCE: We met at a party.

PBC: Do you cook and what's your specialty?

PIERCE: I used to cook, it used to be ratatouille, now I don't cook, but I still like cornflakes.

PBC: What was your first big acting break?

PIERCE: I think being picked by Tennessee Williams to perform in his production of "The Red Devil Battery Sign" which I did in London. I worked with him for about five weeks and he even wrote extra scenes into the show for me. From there it was Zeffirelli and up from that point on.

PBC: Have you ever been hooked on a soap opera and if so which one?

PIERCE: No.

PBC: What kind of perfume do you like Cassie to wear?

PIERCE: Frakas for special and Anais Anais for everyday.

PBC: Who is your favorite classical composer?

PIERCE: Hector Berlioz, who was a French Romantic composer from the 19th century. I'm particularly fond of an opera he wrote called Le Troyen.

PBC: Do you believe in reincarnation?

PIERCE: No.

PBC: What kind of books do you read in your spare time?

PIERCE: Many different ones, actually. I've just finished "The Nightmare Years" which is an historical account of certain times during World War II.

Another book I liked was written by a fellow named T. Coraghessan Boyle called "Water Music." For the most part I prefer fiction and history.

PBC: Do you socialize with people outside of the entertainment industry?

PIERCE: Yes.

PBC: Have you gotten involved with the Ethiopian crisis?

PIERCE: Yes.

PBC: Will Remington Steele be shooting in Europe this season?

PIERCE: Yes, at this time two episodes are currently scheduled for production in London.

PBC: What kind of toothpaste do you use?

PIERCE: Colgate.

PBC: Do you drink wine with dinner, and if so, do you prefer red or white?

PIERCE: Yes, we do drink wine, preferably white, but I also enjoy a good beer.

etc...

H iatus for Pierce this season has been very exciting. The movie offers are pouring in, but due to his ongoing Remington Steele commitment, he was unable to accept any of them because of scheduling conflicts. Subsequently, this offered the Brosnans the opportunity for a much needed vacation and it was off to Hawaii for Pierce and the gang.

The past two months have also been great in that Pierce and Cassie have had time for the various charitable projects to which they are seriously devoted. They have been acting as spokespersons for the City of Hope and recently returned from Washington D.C. where they attended a big fund-raising ball for the Cancer Society. Among the many celebrities and honored guests, were President and Nancy Reagan. The kids joined Pierce and Cassie in Washington and had a wonderful time seeing the sights of the nation's capitol.

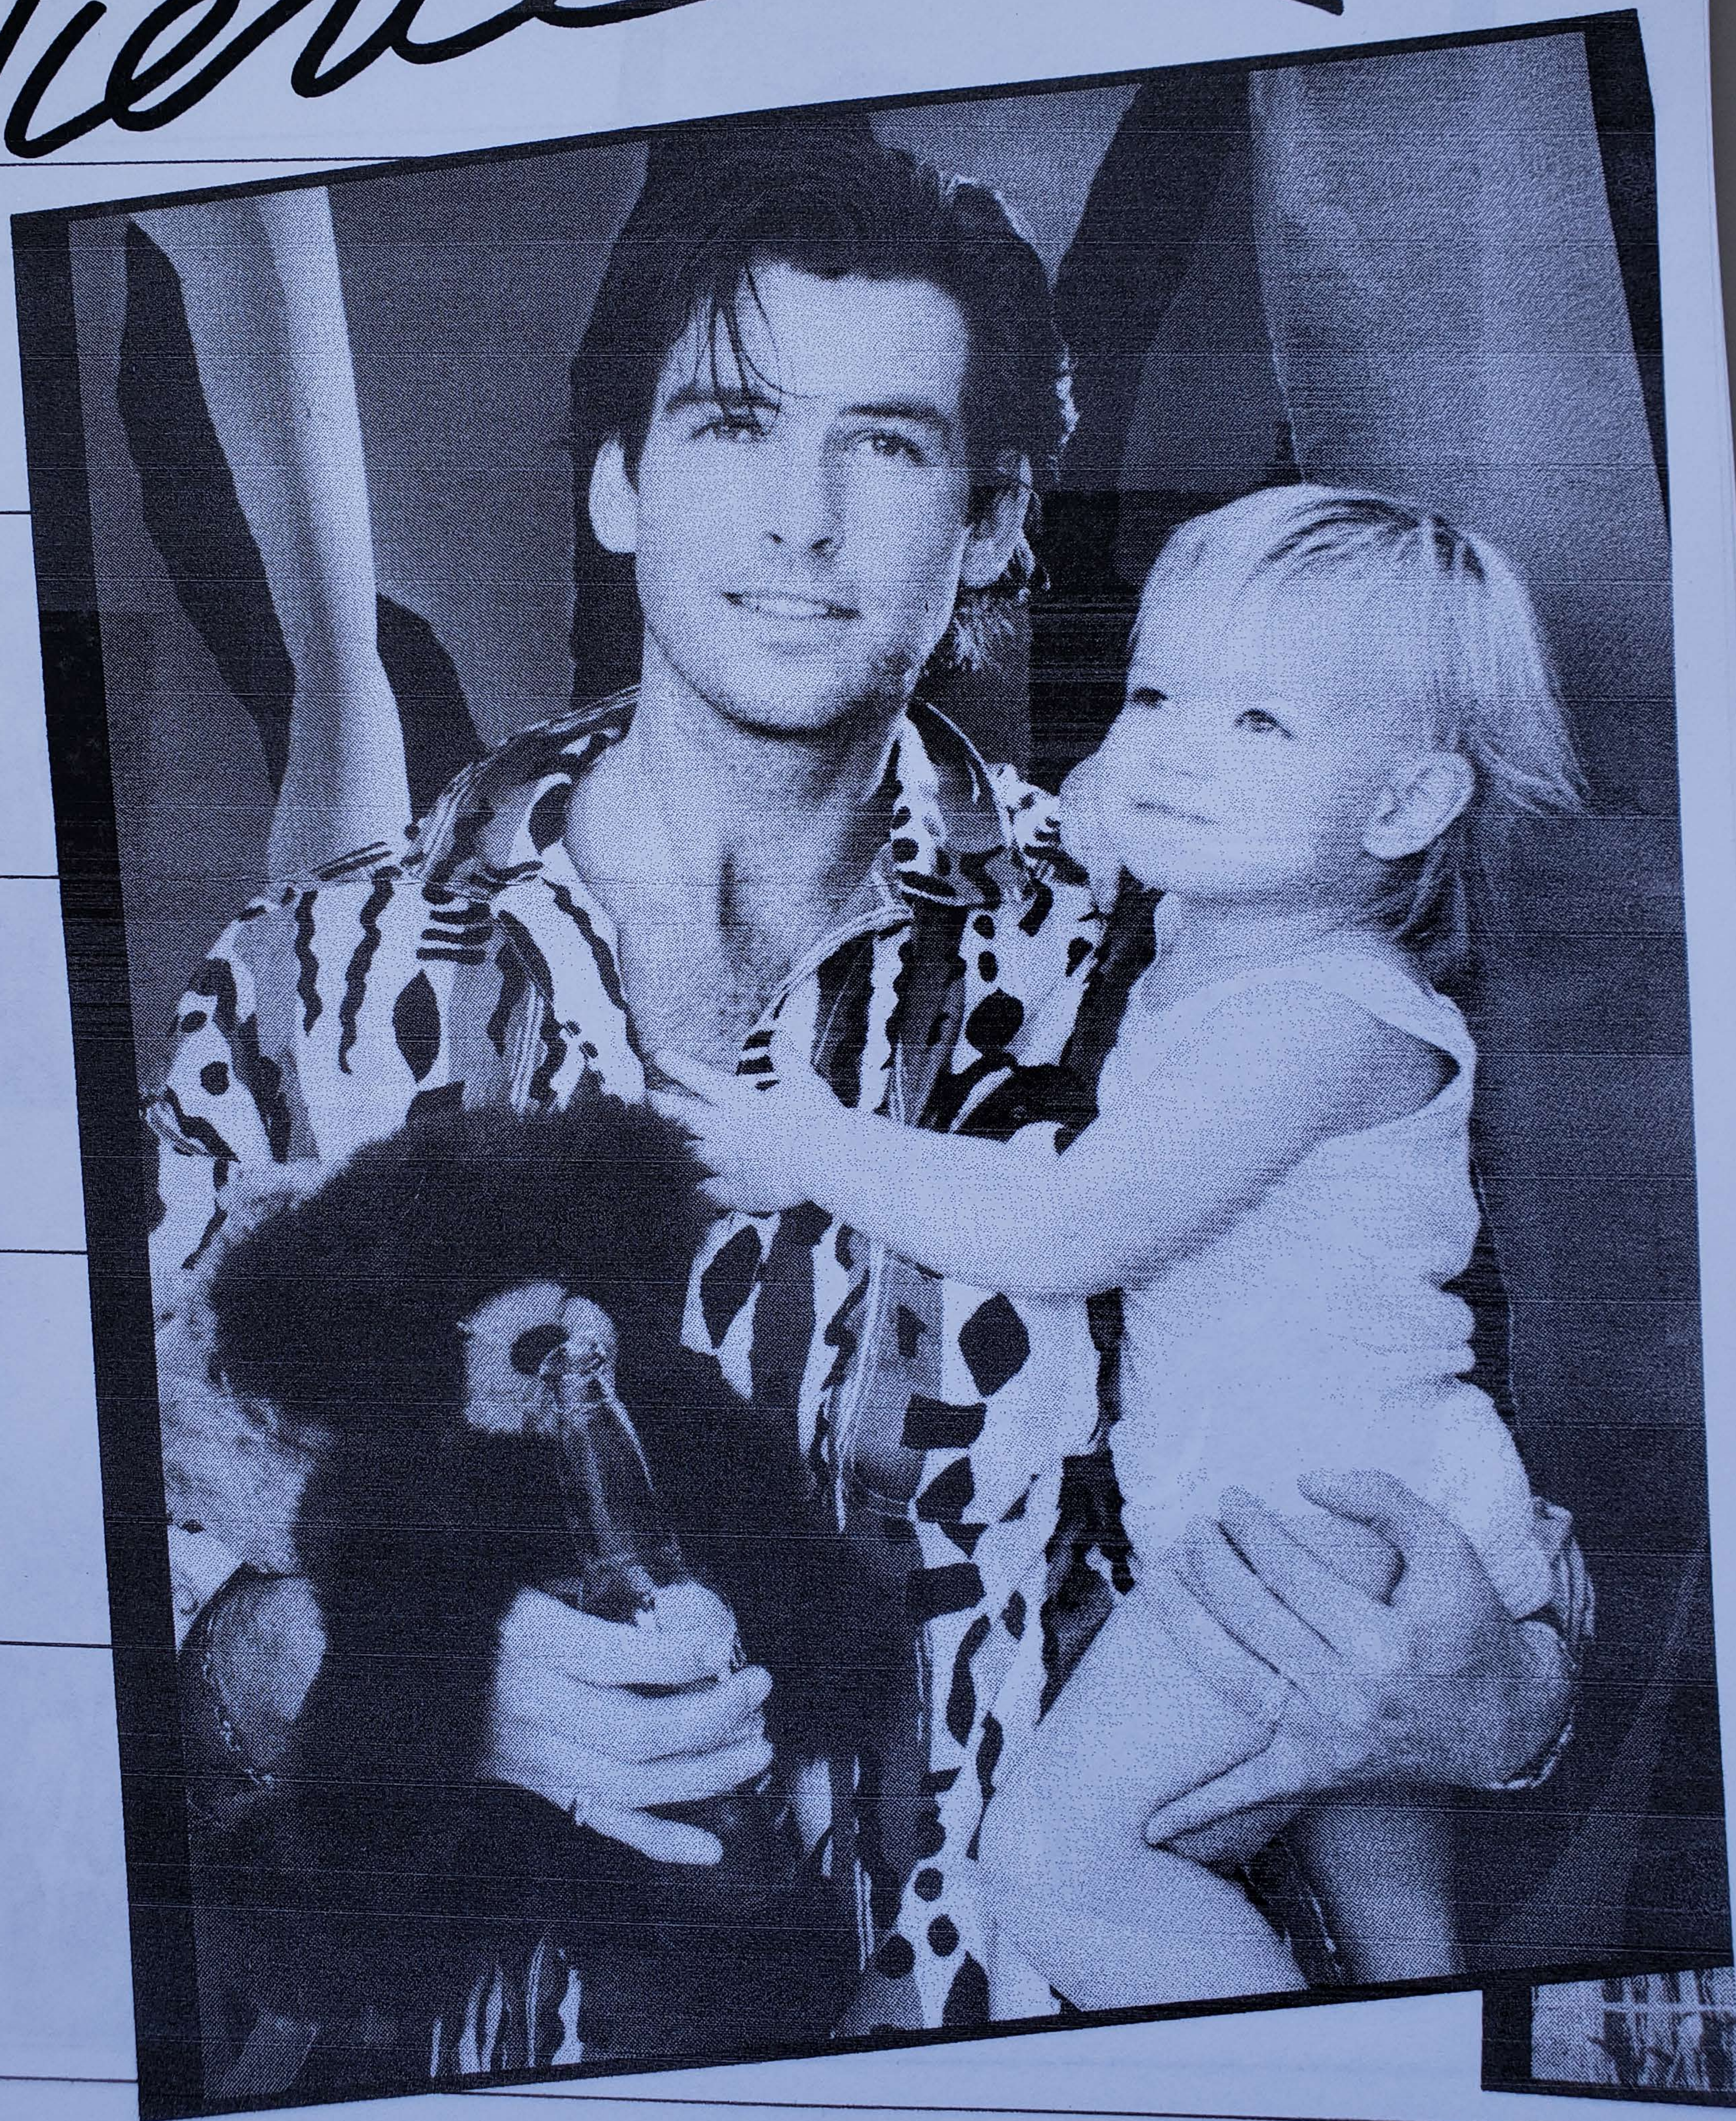

Pierce would also like to take this opportunity to convey a special get well message to fan club member, Julie Engler, who has been having a real tough run in with cancer.

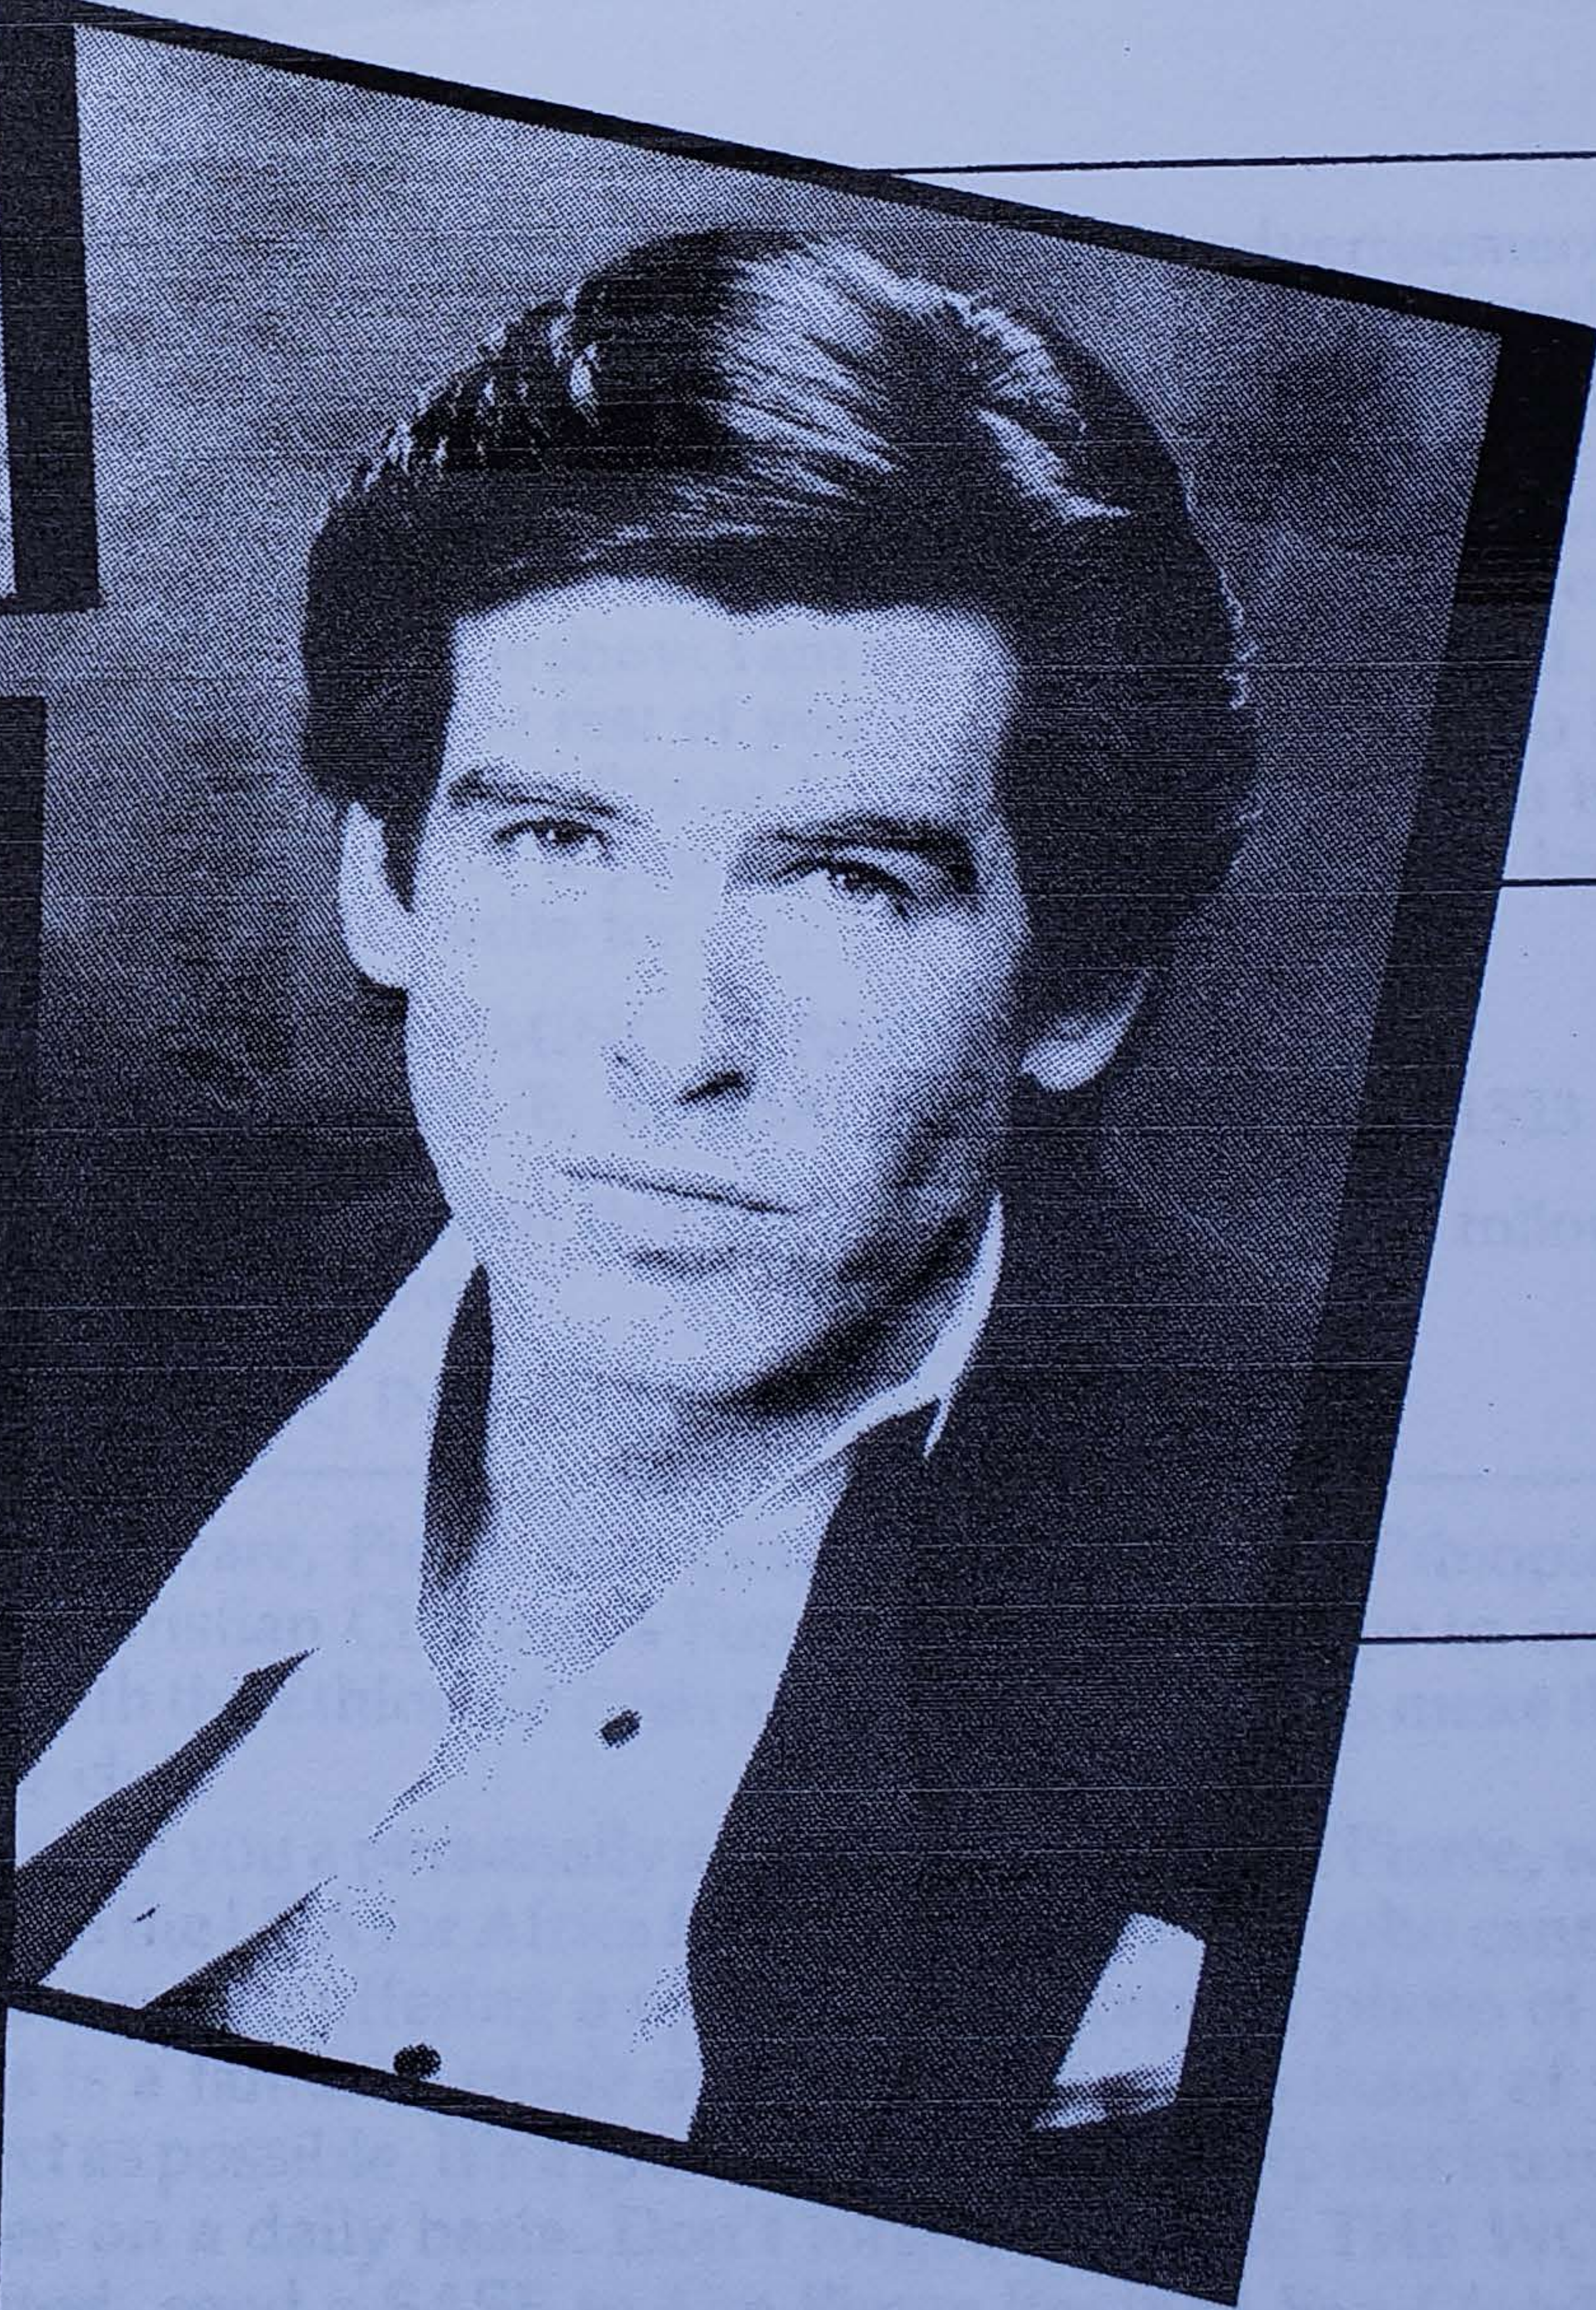

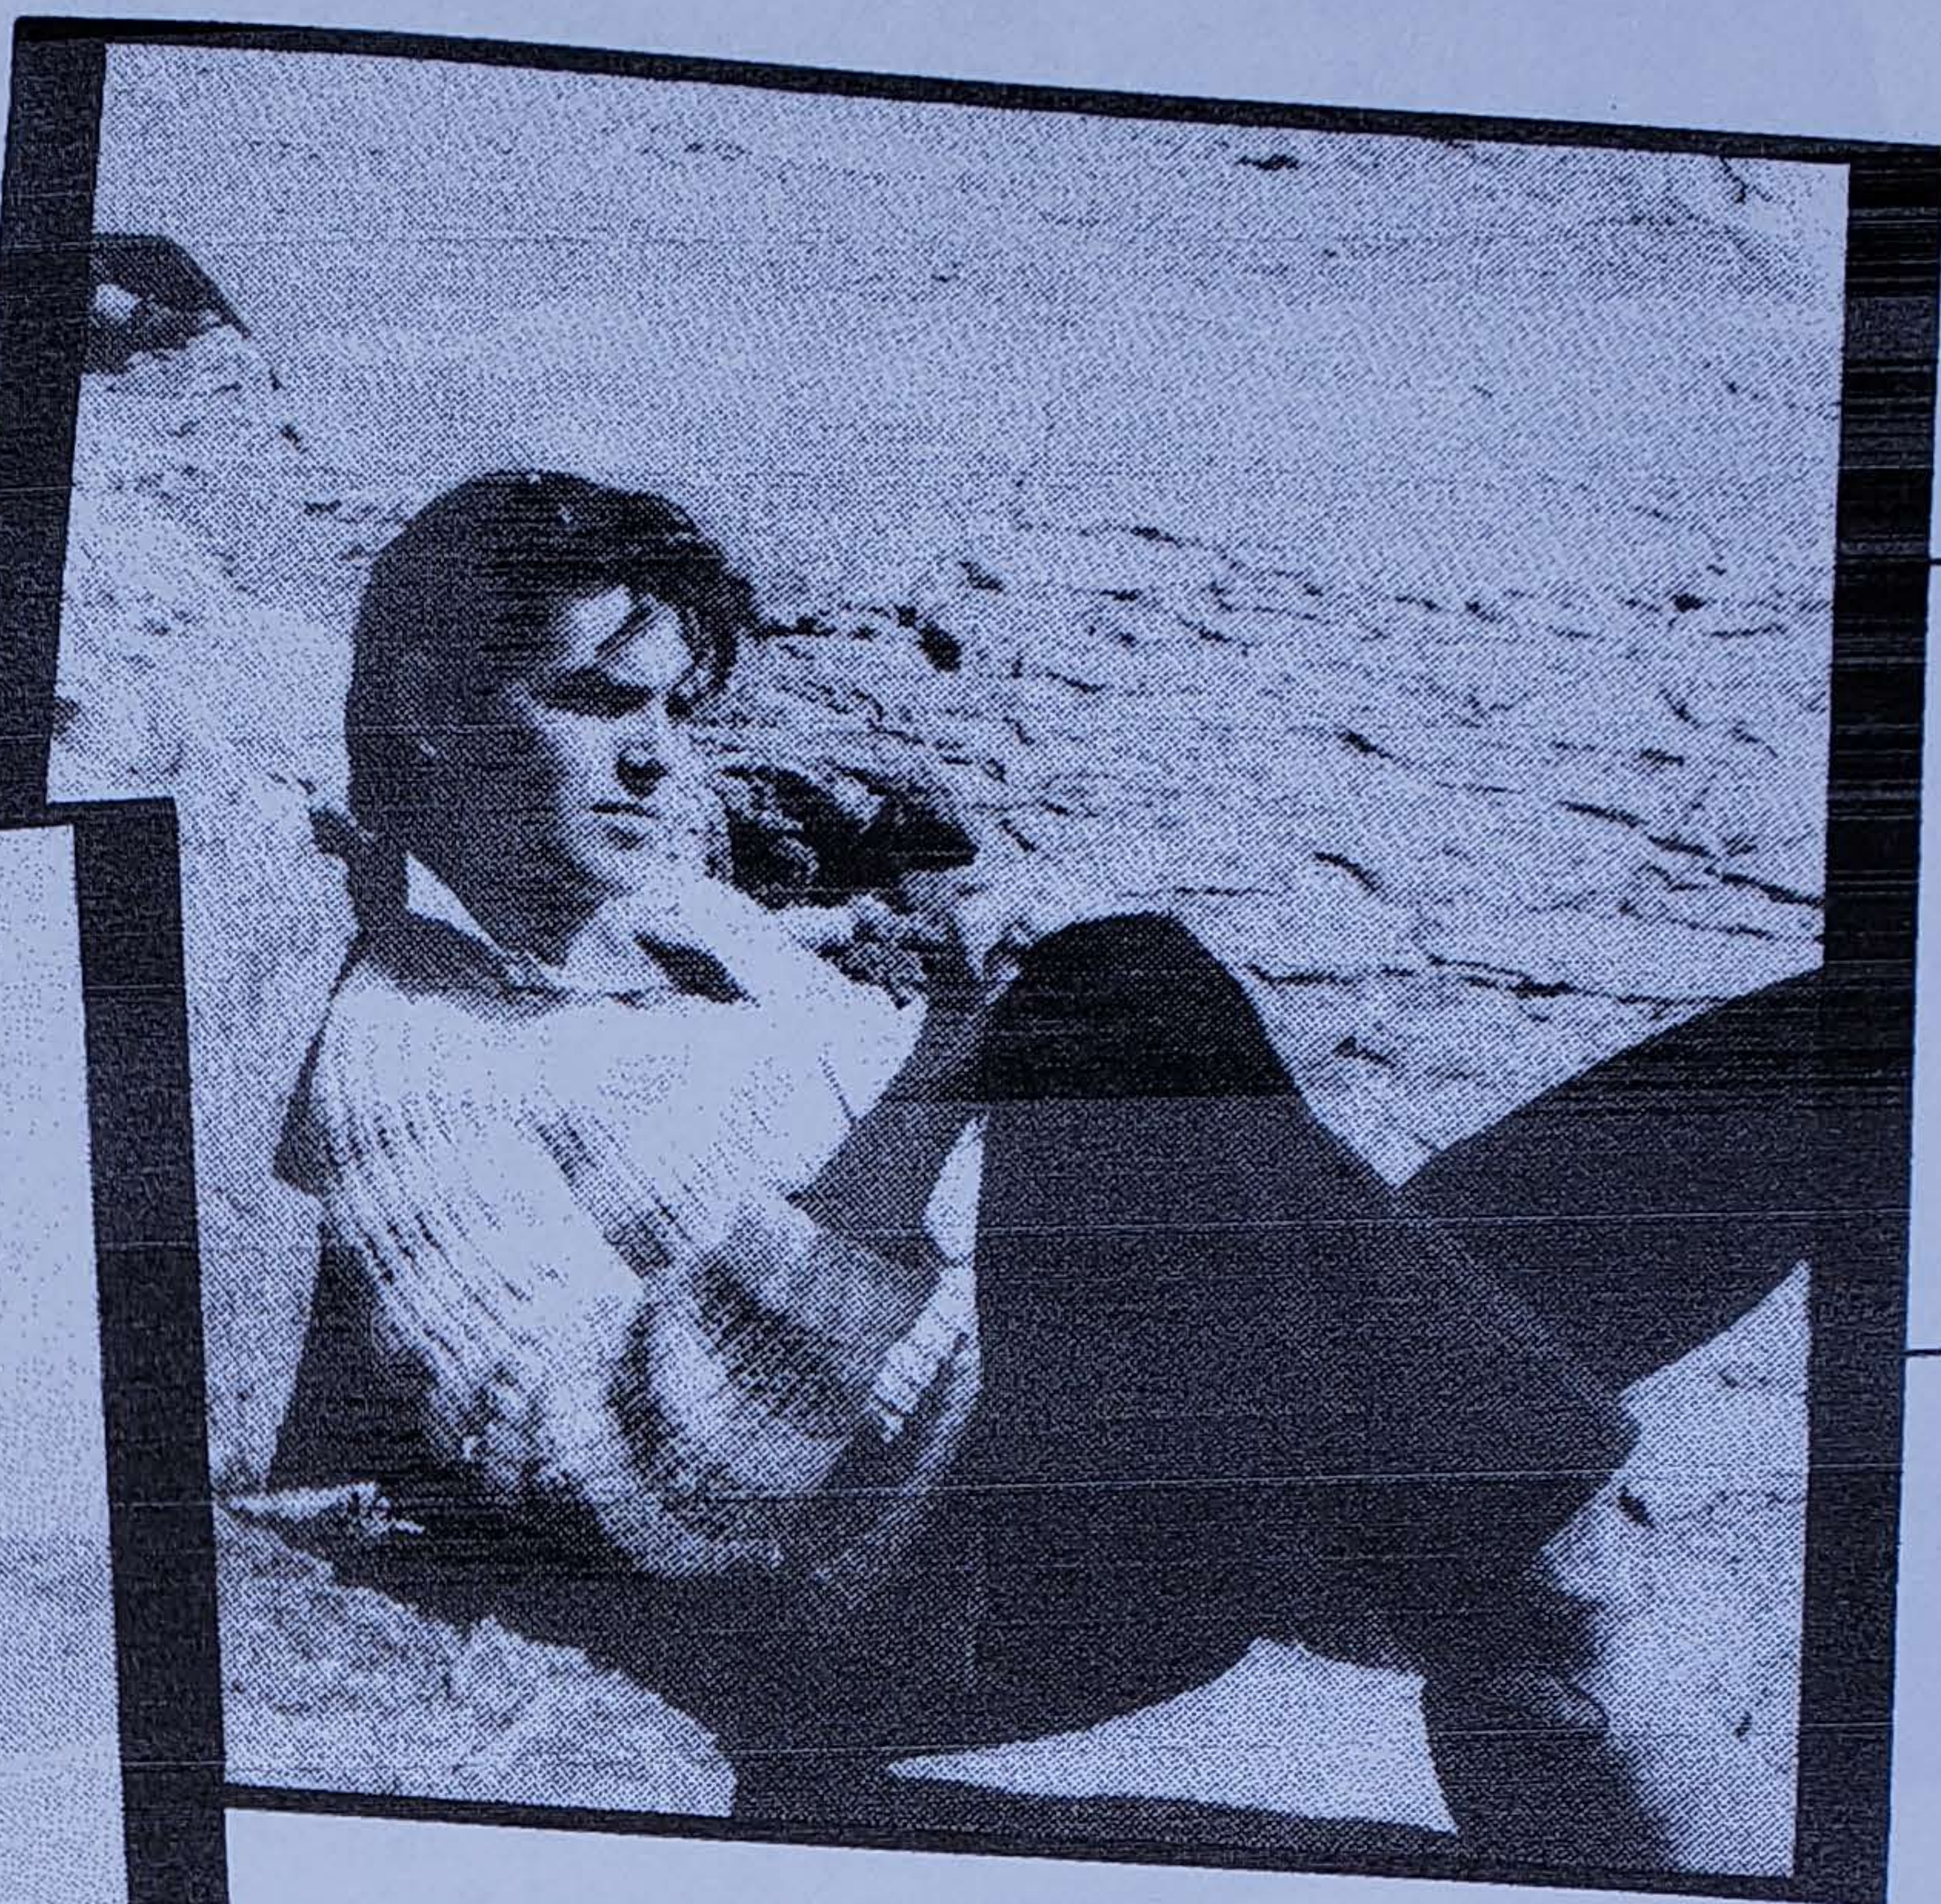

NEW ADDITIONS – As a special congratulatory surprise in honor of their father's Golden Globe nomination for Nancy Astor, Christopher, Charlotte and Sean presented their dad with two "golden dachshund puppies" Lily and Rose.

Regarding Nomads, the film has been sold for foreign distribution. It is currently scheduled for screening at the Cannes film festival, the marketplace for American film sales. We will keep you posted on any news as soon as it breaks.

Fight Back!

As your president, I want to bring your attention to an advertisement which appeared in this week's T.V. Guide. Although the ad was allegedly created to enhance the status of the show, in my opinion it is misleading, detrimental and more importantly, presents Pierce in an uncomplimentary fashion. Needless to say, Pierce is returning to the show next year, however I find this kind of cliffhanging media manipulation inexcusable, especially when it is done at the expense of the star of the show. I am not pleased, and I intend to let NBC know, and I encourage the rest of you to do the same. We do have a say, and if you are as unhappy about this as I am, please write. If you have any comments regarding the show or if you would just like to let NBC know how fabulous you think Pierce is, write to:

NBC PROGRAMMING DEPARTMENT,
3000 WEST ALAMEDA AVENUE, BURBANK, CALIFORNIA 91523

If you are particularly heated about this subject, you can call the following number at NBC and let them know:

PROGRAMMING INFORMATION - (818) 840-4444

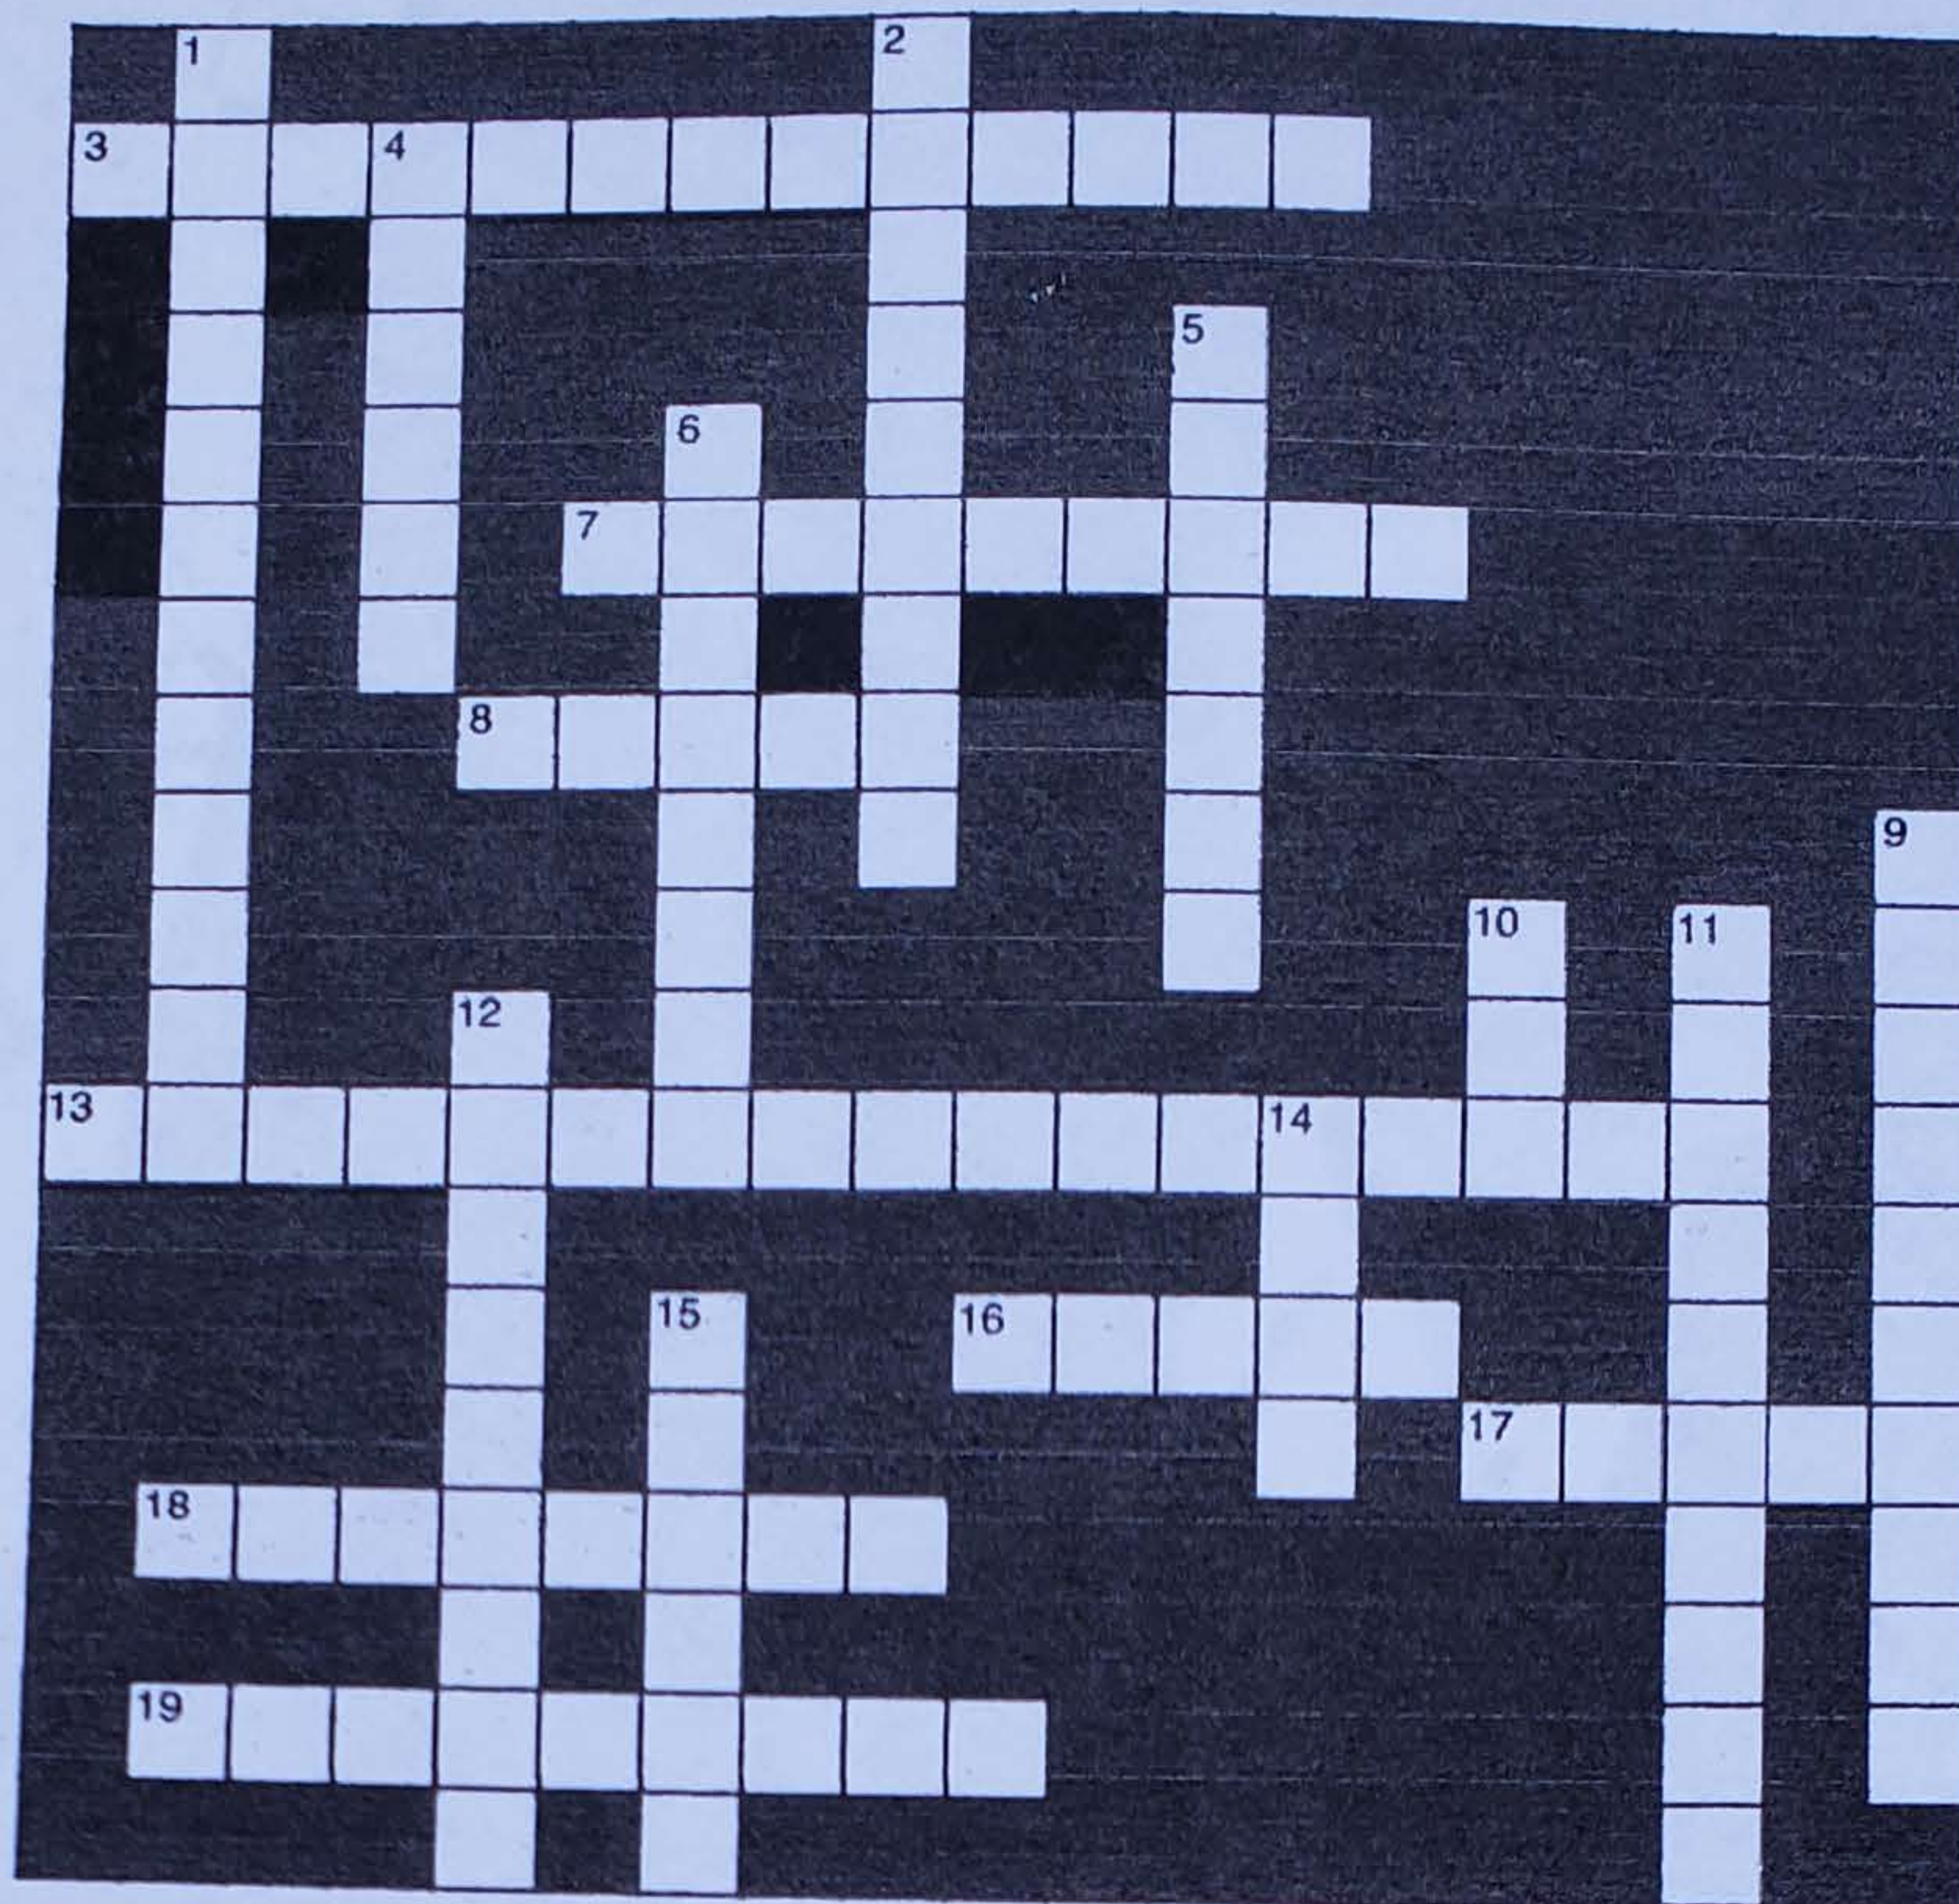

As many of you are aware, Pierce and Cassie sponsor several Ethiopian children through the Christian Children's Fund. Pierce would love to see the fan club get involved with the Ethiopian crisis and has allowed me to make the following offer to our club.

For $25.00 we will send you a personally autographed poster of Pierce, with all the proceeds going to the USA for Africa fund. For those of you who cannot afford the $25.00, we are also offering a specially autographed photo of Pierce for $5.00. I think this is a fantastic cause and I'd like to see as many of you involved in this project as possible. It's a great opportunity to help our friends in Ethiopia that suffer on a daily basis. Don't forget, WE ARE THE WORLD.

If you are interested, send a SASE to The Pierce Brosnan Fan Club/UFA
P.O. Box #25858, Los Angeles, California 90025.
